

DAY ONE

Afternoon arrival to Iceland and transfer in renovated coach from the 1960s.

En route from the airport, we surprise the guests with a welcome at the seaside in Reykjavík, where a woman dressed in traditional Icelandic costume offers a glass of an Icelandic elixir.

We continue to the exclusive boutique hotel in downtown Reykjavík; the 101 hotel, for check-in.

Time at leisure.

Dinner in the main square in Reykjavík at the famous Borg restaurant.

By late evening, we bring in our nightlife guides, who know all the best night scene in Reykjavík. With our VIP passes, our guests are guaranteed priority entry into all the best places.

DAY TWO

Breakfast at Leisure.

Guests will be taken from Reykjavík straight to the glaciers in a VIP helicopter.

While the flight takes them by the shoreline of the south, with mountains on one side and the Westman Islands on the other. Black sand beaches, the North Atlantic Ocean and green fields provide an amazing contrast in colour.

At the landing on the glacier, the snowmobiles await. After a journey on the snowmobiles, a champagne apéritif is offered in the white wilderness of the glacier, before a buffet lunch on tables carved into the glacier.

After the lunch, our guests will see our Super 4X4 vehicles approach on the glacier, to bring them from the glacier to the black sand beaches for a little "sand-safari".

Return to Reykjavík to freshen up.

Since Iceland is a land of contrasts and the activities are either related to our glaciers or our volcanic mountains, what better theme than FIRE AND ICE for your Gala Night? We can create the right atmosphere with cooperation from Production companies, experts in props, lighting, sound and entertainment.

Overnight at hotel.

DAY THREE

The Golden Circle is undoubtedly one of the highlights in a visit to Iceland. It covers the most historical sites in the country - a lake filled crater, spouting geyser, hot springs, glacial river waterfall, greenhouse industry and beautiful scenery on the way.

After only a 15-minute drive from the hotel in Reykjavík, the tour takes place across the countryside, crossing the mountain plateau of Hellisheidi, covered by post-glacial lava fields, for a visit to the village of Hveragerdi. This community has been built around hot springs and the harnessed geothermal power has permitted a greenhouse industry in which flowers, vegetables, fruits and exotic plants flourish under glass.

Onwards to Kerid, a lake-filled extinct volcanic crater.

From Kerid, proceeding to Geysir. Here are hot springs in abundance, and the geyser "Strokkur", which spouts every few minutes, shooting columns of piping hot water up to 20m (60 feet).

From there we go to one of the most impressive waterfalls in Europe - Gullfoss (Golden Waterfall). Here you will see thousands of tons of icy water thunder majestically cascading down into a deep gorge; a very powerful sight.

Lunch at Hotel Geysir.

Our next stop in Iceland is the famous Blue Lagoon in its lava surroundings, where we will reside for a couple of hours for the bathing of your lifetime, in comfort of the warm lagoon water and enjoy a glass a champagne whilst bathing.

Freshen up and your dream incentive ends and group will be taken to the airport.
