The Maltese Islands have experienced a big boost in the last few years with Valletta being European Capital of Culture and many parts of the island being completely rejuvenated. New hotels have opened, including a big boutique hotel scene, ancient forts & buildings across the island have been transformed, many new trendy concept restaurants have opened and the once lost nightlife of Valletta has come back in full swing and better than ever.

Join in & experience the best of the island's new activities, venues & hotels for meetings & incentives!
